

PROGRAMME

JULY 20 TO 26, 2020

About

Living Away Fest 2020 will have a broad program including live performances, radio, TV, video games, workshops, a cooking class, a performance-lecture, instructions for taking a selfie, a dance class, meditations, self-guided offline practices, poetical walks in the neighborhood and other forms of interaction between the artists and the guests.

The Festival's programme wants to talk about ways to interact with each other, to be close to each other even in the ongoing situation. It will be an opportunity for discovery, surprise and growth.

Daily scores

Our daily scores are meditations to do at home. People will receive instructions to conduct them by text and video. The scores are supposed to provide a structure for self-explorations and the development of personal creativity.

Time Radio

This will be two collection curated by composer Nina Fukuoka and podcaster Raymel Casamayor. The We want to share pieces that are focused on how sound can become a medium to explore time and space. The works could become a parallel place of extended listening.

Interpassive Worlds

This section of the festival is dedicated to online works that require the action of the audience in a playful manner. It will include a game, a VR installation and an interactive collection of videos.

The world in fragments

We will be releasing three volumes of videos created by artists from a multiplicity of disciplines. In Vol. 1, we will be showing a diverse programme of short films by Cuban and international artists. Vol. 2 will be dedicated to pieces by young female Cuban artists and Vol. 3 is a collection of pieces that work in the crossroads of dance and film.

We are live

This is a program of live events including house performances, concerts, and cooking and a dance classes. Living Away Forum is a space to open the floor to the audience. Our team will be conducting a collective session of thinking together with the audience about our current time and futures, specially for artists working in the performing arts.
